

Allora & Calzadilla, Fault Lines Performer Bios

Benjamin Barham-Wiese is ecstatic to be performing at MoMA! National tour/regional credits include A Christmas Story, the Musical, Matilda, and Newsies, and upcoming appearances include Amahl and the Night Visitors with Onsite Opera and Season One of Apple TV's Little America.

David Blair is an 11-year-old soprano who sings and tours internationally with the Trinity Choir of Men & Boys in New Haven, CT, under the direction of Walden Moore. Blair also plays piano and flute, engages in competitive basketball and soccer, and loves to read, write, and converse in English and Polish.

Devin Zamir Coleman has an unseen driving force: "music is all around us and within us." He is a cellist, pianist, model/actor, and member of the Church of the Transfiguration boys' choir. His accomplishments include a 2018 Macy's Fourth of July Fireworks solo, and performances in several musical workshops, theater productions, and operas.

Owen Flood is a 12-year-old North Middle School student from Great Neck, New York. He loves aviation, singing, and playing soccer. He enjoys horseback riding, skiing, musical theater, and traveling with his family. He is very excited to take part in this amazing exhibit, his first professional opportunity.

Eliot Flowers is a sixth-grader at Special Music School, an NYC public school for musically gifted kids, where he studies the cello. He is in the Metropolitan Opera's Children's Chorus; a highlight was performing in Mozart's Die Zauberflöte. He enjoys swimming, shooting hoops in Riverside Park, studying Mandarin, and eating tacos.

Gabriel Gurevich recently performed in Marnie at the Metropolitan Opera. His screen credits include FX's The Americans, guest appearances in HBO's High Maintenance and the CW's Supergirl, and the lead role in Metronome (In Time), a short film that recently premiered at the Tribeca Film Festival.

Agustya Harsh, age 11, is a sixth-grader. He has performed in commercial productions such as A Christmas Carol and the musical Thirteen. He recently sang in the opera Turandot and the musical The Sound of Music. Harsh dabbles in the violin and has performed with his school for Yo-Yo Ma and Itzhak Perlman. Harsh likes playing tennis and has won regional under-12 USTA singles and doubles tournaments.

Christian Henderson sings with the NYC Children's Chorus at Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church. He was a concert soloist in Chichester Psalms with Dessoff Choirs and Temple Emanu-El. He appeared on Broadway in The Man Who Came to Dinner, and in The Soundtrack of Our Lives at Radio City Music Hall. Television appearances include The Marvelous Mrs. Maisel, Good Morning America, and TODAY.

Matthew Herrera is 11 years old and has experience in singing, acting, piano, and modeling. He has performed as a soloist and as a chorus member in different venues, including the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Citi Field, and Carnegie Hall. Most recently, he performed the Chichester Psalms by Leonard Bernstein.

Jarod Hirsch is a 12-year-old actor/singer. He's grateful to MoMA and National Chorale for being a part of Fault Lines. He appeared in A Christmas Story, the soon-to-be-released The Truth About Santa Claus, as the voice of Gund's Clappy Monkey, and Soon by You.

Gareth Hogan is an eighth-grader at MS 51 in Brooklyn. He has performed in several musicals at Piper Theatre and Gallery Players. In 2018 he played the title role in Oliver! at Heights Players. He also enjoys tap dancing at Mark Morris.

SangHoon M. Jung is a freshman studying medical science at Bergen County Academies. He started singing at nine and is taught by HyeYoung Kang. He achieved second in New York Lyrics Opera, was a finalist in Forte International Competition, and was third in the Hal Leonard Competition. He also released the album Beyond the Clouds Above.

Will Kramer, an eighth-grader at Hunter College High School, is a member of the Metropolitan Opera Children's Chorus and has performed in 13 productions, representing over 135 performances. He has performed with Clarion Music Society, Pro Arte Chorale, and Every Voices Choir, and has recorded background singing for television and movies.

Luciano Pantano is 12 years old. Since 2015 he has been a member of Men & Boys choir at the Church of the Transfiguration in NYC, directed by Dr. Claudia Dumschat. St. Alban's Cathedral (England, 2018), Barbados (2019). He appeared in Amahl and the Night Visitors (Menotti) in three productions, including On Site Opera NYC (2018), and in Owen Wingrave at the Little Opera (2019). He is also a pianist.

Jackson Rooney is thrilled to be performing in Fault Lines. The seventh-grader's favorite subject is science. He enjoys guitar, classical voice lessons, theater design workshop, cross country, and basketball. He is a member of the Boy Scouts, working his way to Eagle Scout.

Matthew Rooney is delighted to be making his stage debut in Fault Lines. The sixth-grader's favorite subject is music. His hobbies include glee club, drama, classical voice lessons, cross country, and basketball. When not in school he enjoys Broadway shows and Xbox.

Alex Tollit, age 12, studies at Trevor Day School in NYC. He is delighted to perform at MoMA. When not singing, you can find him training and competing with the AGUA swim team. He also loves to play rugby, soccer, and the piano.

Emmanuel Tsao is a sixth-grader at White Station Middle School in Memphis, Tennessee. He studies voice with Diane and John Carden. Credits include Peter Pan (Playhouse on the Square) and Chichester Psalms (boy soprano soloist, Memphis Symphony Orchestra; University of Mississippi Chorus).

Edward Turner is thrilled to be a part of Fault Lines. He appeared in the national tour companies of The Sound of Music and A Christmas Story, The Musical, and appeared in regional productions of Mary Poppins, Beat Bugs, The Musical, and Oliver! He appeared on television's Blue Bloods and was a semifinalist in the Hal Leonard Musical Theatre Competition.